

PORT CHESTER NURSING AND REHABILITATION CENTRE recently held a ribbon-cutting ceremony for “The Internet Café,” a newly constructed room with computers and webcams for residents’ use. Webcams and Skype will enable residents of the nursing home to communicate easily with family and friends. All computer equipment was donated by CompuCom of Ossining.
